Trust is when you have doubt in mind, when you have hesitation you say I trust you but inside you are not with totality, but when you have faith you totally surrender with totality, because faith is very personal, if you do something personally you can do anything with totality and we trust on something, there is need of object so we can trust on, but faith is beyond object, we can not trust god, if we trust on god then god is an object for us, one day we can have question for it, if you trust god,,, you can say,,, that is idol of god, it is a stone and we gave a name to it, so the faith is internal thing, faith is very personal, whether the idol is made from stone, cement, lime, whatever,,,,

But for us,,, he is our god, we do not believe, remember,,,,,belief is very shallow, belief is also objective, but shallow than trust,, you intentionally ignore when you have belief, when we say we believe god it means someone said and you believed, belief is for escapist, trust is for sceptic, and faith is for soul.
